2 STATES BACK NEW DEAL IN PRIMARY VOTE

Supporters of Administration Win Over Critics in Alabama and Florida.

By The Associated Press

Administration forces beat back their Democratic critics in Florida and Alabama senatorial primaries while Gov Thomas E Dewey of New York gathered in more convention support today for the Republican presidential convention

Senator Lister Hill, Democratic whip, was renominated in Alabama and Senator Claude Pepper ran up a substantial lead in his five-way contest for renomination in Florida. Both men are administration stalwarts and both were opposed by vigorous critics of many of President Roosevelt's policies In their part of the country nomination is as good as election.

Support of the President figured as a side issue in another senatorial primary, in South Dakota, where Republican Senator Chan Gurney won renomination despite opposition claims that he had "adopted much of the New Deal philosophy."

In South Dakota Governor Dewey picked up 11 additional convention votes A slate favoring the New Yorker defeated one supporting Lieut Comdr. Harold E. Stassen by a margin of about 3 to 2

This brings Dewey's total of pledged or claimed delegates to 239, with 530 needed to nominate at the Chicago convention

The lineup in the senate primary races was this.

Alabama:

Senator Hill defeated James A Simpson, Birmingham attorney for renomination by 97,618 to 77,230 with only 542 of the state's 2,310 boxes, or precincts unreported. Hill called his victory a "verdict of the people of Alabama sustaining and upholding the policies and the principles of our great commander-in-chief, Franklin Delano Roosevelt."

Florida:

Senator Pepper was making a strong fight to sidestep a run-off on May 23 which would be necessitated if he failed to win more than 50 per cent of the votes in the preferential With 858 precincts counted out of 1,496, the incumbent had 112,178 while the combined total of his four opponents was 104,212.

South Dakota:

Senator Gurney was renominated over Lieut A C Miller Gurney polled 32,041 to Miller's 23,488 with all but 655 of the state's 1,963 precincts accounted for.

In South Dakota's Democratic primary all delegate candidates are fourth term supporters. With their eight votes, there are now 371 pledged or claimed for Mr Roosevelt. It requires 589 to nominate.

Other results:

Arkansas:

Selection of the state's Republican delegation of 12 was completed but the convention turned down a proposal to instruct them for Dewey

Florida:

A group of Byrd-for-president supporters was making a bid to carry the state's banner to the Democratic national convention Fragmentary reports showed that seven delegates pledged to President Roosevelt and five pledged to Byrd were leading

Indiana:

The state's 11 congressmen—nine Republicans and two Democrats—appeared assured of renomination as incomplete primary results failed to disclose a strong competitor for any incumbent.

Invasion Prayer Service Proposal Winning Support

A number of Marion ministers today expressed favor of the proposal to throw open church doors when news comes that the European invasion has begun

Although no concerted action has been taken by the ministers, many of them expressed their personal favor of the plan, and prepared to present the matter to their church boards at their next meetings

It appeared certain that the ringing of church bells would mark the start of the invasion, and many pastors indicated that church doors almost automatically would be opened so that Marion residents could come in for a period of meditation and individual prayer

MEAT TO BE RATION FREE

All Cuts But Beef Steaks and Roasts Removed from Control.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 3—The office of price administration today made all meats except beef steaks and beef roasts ration free, effective at midnight.

The removal of ration points, announced by OPA Administrator Bowles at a surprise press conference, covers all cuts of pork, veal, lamb and mutton, all beef except the steaks and roasts, beef hamburger, beef stews, all kinds of variety meats, sausage, ready-to-eat meats, canned meats and canned fish

The action was taken, Bowles said because lend-lease pork buying had been halted for the time being; also because of reduced Army and Navy demand, the crowding of storage space and the hope that the action will bring more meat to market this summer.

Because of the wide variety of meats now becoming available without the spending of red ration points, OPA announced that housewives would have to make their red points last twice as long—stretching over a four week period instead of the present two week period.

In the past OPA has validated 30 red points every two weeks Starting next Sunday OPA will validate 30 points every four weeks Red stamps R8, S8 and T8 become valid Sunday for the purchase of butter, margarine, cheese and cheese products evaporated milk, beef steaks and roasts—the only items now requiring red points—but no more red stamps will be validated until June 3, four weeks hence

OPA officials indicated they were fairly certain the new status would endure for three or four months at least, but Bowles declined to prophesy beyond that time, stating that the cattle feed situation was the governing factor. A bad growing year he indicated, would mean restoration of rationing next winter.

Point values for beef steaks (except flank, made point free) and roasts will remain the same, ranging from 7 to 13 points a pound.

The sudden action removed from rationing 57 per cent of the volume of products originally covered by red points It removed 85 per cent of all meat.

NAVY DESTROYS 232 PLANES IN TWO BIG BLOWS

Fleet Forces Roam at Will To Smash at Truk Base and Hollandia.

By The Associated Press

A mighty American naval force, roaming the South Pacific seas unchallenged by the Japanese navy, has run its string of air victories to 232 enemy planes destroyed in a little more than a week by smashing Japan's strong-hold in the Carolines Truk atoll, with one of the heaviest blows of the Pacific war.

An 800-ton blast by carrier-based planes wrecked Truk's defenses and destroyed 80 parked planes Sixty-six more Japanese aircraft were shot down during the raids Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

On the preceding week-end, the same task force supported Sixth army invasion forces at Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, and accounted for 106 Japanese planes.

Truk's satellite bases at Satawan and Ponape in the eastern Carolines were bombed and big guns from battleships and cruisers added their heavyweight explosives to the assault.

No Warships Damaged

Not a warship was damaged and air losses were confined to 30 fliers missing, the Navy said.

Carrier planes, "operating the second such task force assault of Truk—the first was last February — shot down 60 Japanese planes in combat Saturday and accounted for five more. The next day, while the bombing of the big naval base was pressed home, Truk was able to send up only one plane and it was shot down.

Sunday, during the second day's pounding of Truk, the airbase island of Satawan, more than 100 miles to the southeast, was shelled by cruisers of Rear Adm. J B Oldendorf. Monday, big battleships of Vice Adm W. A Lee poured their shells on Ponape, the often-raided island in the eastern Carolines, 440 miles from Truk. Carrier planes also attacked the base

Wake Island, enemy-held U S. possession 1300 miles to the northeast, took its heaviest raid of the war when land-based heavy bombers poured 95 tons of explosives on Japanese installations Sunday. There was no air interception.

Southwest Pacific

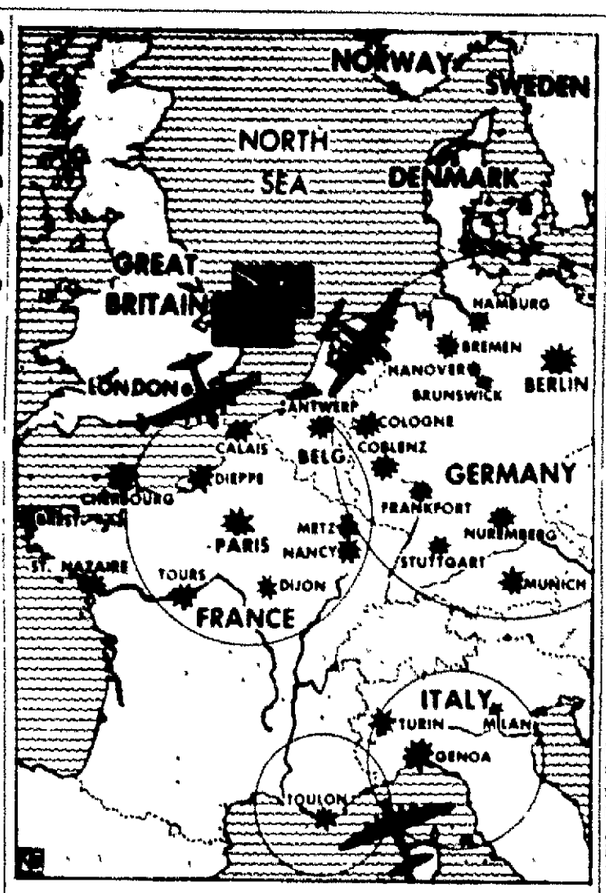
In the southwest Pacific, allied headquarters issued a special statement claiming the sinking of 1,727 Japanese coastal vessels, barges, schooners and sailing craft and damaging 3,548 other small craft since April 1942.

The statement commented that this anti-barge campaign has had the effect of "paralyzing enemy efforts to supply, reinforce or evacuate the 17th and 18th (Japanese) armies cut off and surrounded in New Guinea, New Britain, New Ireland and the Solomons."

MacArthur's communique today told of the destruction of 20 enemy barges off the New Guinea coast, and of air raids on Rabaul, New Britain, Wokai in the Caroline islands, and the Schouten island in Dutch New Guinea.

On the Burma-India front, an allied communique reported capture of several Japanese positions north of Kohima, advance point of Japan's invasion of India, the allied evacuation of a village on the Arakan front of coastal Burma and the steady advance of Lt Gen Joseph W. Stilwell's forces in the Mogaung valley of northern Burma.

Loyang, one of China's oldest cities and six times its capital, is threatened by Japanese columns driving west along the Lunghai railroad. One column is reported less than 35 miles from the city, following the enemy breakthrough at Hulao pass.



ARENAS OF ZERO HOUR BLASTS. While France is reported scheduled for some of the heaviest eleventh hour pre-invasion bombings, the four circles shown on the map ring the areas of greatest recent activity Sudden interest in the Toulon-Genoa sections is given particular attention by invasion prognosticators The latest of the circles encloses the area whose airplane plants have been a favorite target of our bombers

SEE ATTACK IN CONJUNCTION WITH INVASION

Mosquitos Take Over on Raids from England; Cities in Italy Also Hit.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 3—Rail targets in western Europe have been bombed so effectively for the last two months that the lines in northern France and Belgium are no longer capable of bearing the peak load necessary for the Germans to repel invasion, a ministry of economic warfare spokesman said today.

• • •

By The Associated Press

The bomb-happy Germans reported large Allied troop movements in southern Italy today and surmised that the Fifth and Eighth armies were preparing to attack in concert with Gen Eisenhower's mass invasion from the west.

The pattern of Mediterranean air force operations supported the guess Bombs from 1,000 planes spread fresh ruin in enemy-held harbors and again twisted the rail systems of north and central Italy. Targets included Genoa for the fifth straight night, La Spezia by daylight, American Liberators and RAF heavies at night, Livorno, Piacenza Florence, Parma, Rimo and so on The Swiss radio reported grave damage in northern Italy. Patrols and local attacks were reported aground

Mosquitos Take Over

The big British bombers stayed in their hangars in England, passing the baton to the wooden Mosquitos which sprayed the German chemical center of Leverkusen, north of Cologne, with two-ton bombs. Mosquitos also bombed the Athenes rail yards in France. Intruder planes patrolling continental airfields felled five German planes.

The 400-mile-an-hour Mosquitos dropped many 4,000-pound blockbusters on Leverkusen, home of one of the largest chemical works in Europe, employing 20,000 workers

The Athenes railway yards in France also were hit by Mosquitos as British heavy bombers remained idle for the first time in seven nights

Besides Genoa, second only to Marseilles as an important Mediterranean port, the southern arm of the Allied air force also struck at Piacenza, north Italian road junction, in an extension of the widespread assaults made yesterday.

(The German radio said at noon (German time) that there were "no enemy aircraft over the reich," the federal communications commission reported An hour earlier, it had announced that single aircraft were over southwest Germany.)

Five Nazis Shot Down

While the swift Mosquitos visited Germany for the first time this month, Allied intruders swept over the continent as far as Munich and shot down five German planes. Four of them were downed by one Canadian Mosquito crew, setting a record for this type of night operation.

A staggering total of 80,460 tons of bombs fell on the Germans in April. Doubtless referring to this Gargantuan air invasion, Prime Minister Churchill told empire premiers "we are making the most intense efforts to compel early victory." He said the "most deadly climax" was near.

Russian bombers hit hard at the old Polish city of Lwow where seven railways meet, starting large fires Other Red planes sank five evacuation ships fleeing Sevastopol in the Crimea. The Russians said they destroyed 36 German planes, 20 tanks and several hundred troops.

MAN BOUND OVER IN MARIONITE'S DEATH

Mansfield Negro Reported To Have Admitted Shooting.

A charge of first-degree murder was filed this morning at Mansfield against Arthur Peterson, 38, colored, of Mansfield in the slaying of Howard Thomas, 35, also colored, at Mansfield early Monday morning Municipal Judge H H Schettler bound Peterson over to the Richland county grand jury.

Peterson admitted the killing, according to Mansfield Police Chief Meade K. Bates, but no motive has been established for the shooting Peterson is being held in Richland county prison. The grand jury probably will not hear the case soon, as it finished a session last week.

Seized in Cincinnati

Peterson was arrested in Cincinnati Monday and taken to Mansfield early this morning. Thomas, known here for his participation in boxing under the name of 'Kid Mondue,' was shot Sunday night after a quarrel at a rooming house at 297 North Main street in Mansfield. He died almost instantly after having been shot in the head, neck and abdomen.

As far as could be learned Thomas had been working in Crestline for the Pennsylvania railroad Peterson had been employed in the construction of the Parsel Air Forces depot at Shelby but recently had been assisting in running a rooming house at the Main street address

In Mansfield a Year

He came to Mansfield from Florida about a year ago to work on the depot. He was believed to be heading back to Florida when he was arrested in Cincinnati. Peterson disappeared from the scene of the quarrel almost immediately. The shooting resulted after a quarrel in which Peterson had ordered Thomas out of the building. He was standing in the street when the shots were apparently fired from a window. Thomas had come to Mansfield several months ago.

Funeral services will be held here Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Edwin K. Smith Home for Funerals on East Center street. Thomas is survived by his wife, Mrs. Thelma Thomas, and a daughter, Winifred, both of Marion. He formerly was employed here and trained boxers in the Golden Gloves Boxing tournament held here recently.

Burial will be made in Marion cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

High Court Denies Forest Glen Pleas

The United States supreme court has denied a petition of 15 salesmen in the Forest Glen case to have the court make a complete review of the case.

Frank Wiedemann of the law firm of Streitz, Dowler & Weidemann, along with two Columbus attorneys, represents the salesmen, and he has received notice of the court's action. Justice Murphy was the only justice of the opinion that the petition should be granted Justice Douglas did not participate in the opinion.

The salesmen had asked for a review of the case by the high court on the grounds that they were not given speedy or fair trials. They also contended their roles as salesmen did not involve any management policies and that the limited extent to which they participated in the Forest Glen plans was not given sufficient consideration.

The salesmen have decided to apply for a rehearing within the 25 days allowed for that purpose. If a rehearing is denied and other legal steps are exhausted, they will be obliged to accept the penalties imposed in federal court at Columbus following their conviction by a jury.

Ask Open Churches for Invasion Prayers

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 3—The Association of Army and Navy Wives is asking churches of all denominations to remain open daily for "the prayer invasion," when the day of the European invasion arrives, Mrs Arter Collins, organization president, said today.

Mrs Collins said the sponsorship of such activity was undertaken at the request of wives and mothers of the nation "so that the thoughts and prayers of those on the home front may strengthen and encourage our millions of men who will be battling for victory on the fighting fronts of the world."

Union Denounces NLRB Order for Ward Vote As "Dirty Deal"

Instructions for Ballot Within Seven Days Protested as Too Little Time; Charge Reign of Terror at Plant.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 3—A spokesman for the CIO United Mail Order, Warehouse and Retail employes today denounced the decision by the national labor relations board to conduct an election among employes at the government-controlled Montgomery Ward and Company within seven days as "a dirty deal."

"This is the dirtiest deal the NLRB ever dished out to labor," declared Miss Myrna Siegendorf, publicity director, for local 20 the union involved in a dispute with Wards and its chairman, Sewell L. Avery which led to Army-supported government seizure of the Chicago properties last week

"Of course we'll protest," she told an Associated Press reporter "There's a reign of terror at the plant right now. Although the government has taken over, the union contract has not been extended, discharged strikers have not been reinstated, grievances have not been settled

"To hold an election on such short notice and in such an atmosphere is ridiculous, an utter violation of all NLRB precedents But we'll win this election, whether it's now or later, and prove that the union still holds a majority."

Miss Siegendorf said the top union officials here today would formally demand of George J. Bott, NLRB regional director, that the election be postponed to a later date.

She added that the Chicago Industrial Union Council, the CIO metropolitan area central body, had joined the local's protest against the seven-day order. Customarily, she said, the NLRB has allowed at least 21 days for preparations for an election to determine majority representation.

Meanwhile, the government-company legal fight over the right of the President to order seizure of the properties ended in federal court, with Federal Judge William H. Holly announcing he would give his decision next Monday.

Leonard Levy, International vice president of the United Mail Order, Warehouse and Retail Employes (CIO), said he will ask that the collective bargaining election be postponed at least 21 days.

Francis Heisler, union attorney, asserted there had been an oral understanding, after a hearing here by a NLRB trial examiner, that the election would not be ordered before May 21 or later than June 7.

The company, at expiration of its contract with the union last Dec. 8, had refused to renew the pact, contending the CIO affiliate did not represent a majority. A 12-day strike last month ended at the request of President Roosevelt and the government seizure of the properties followed the company's refusal to comply with his directive to extend the expired contract with the union.

$100,000 FIRE SWEEPS DELAWARE CO. PLANT

Popcorn Seed Co. Buildings, Machinery Burned.

Fire leveled the Northwest Popcorn Seed Co, Inc, plant about six miles north of Delaware yesterday afternoon Ray Parrott, secretary and part owner, estimated loss at $100,000 The fire, of undetermined origin, started in the cob bin.

Parrott said about $50,000 worth of popcorn seed burned along with newly installed machinery.

The plant, formed several years ago by Mr. Parrott and John Jeisel, both of Delaware, is one of the largest popcorn seed plants in the state and had a capacity of many thousand bushels, handling 450 100-pound bags per day.

The blaze was discovered shortly after noon but the fire had gained such headway that by the time the Delaware firemen arrived the building was practically gone.

The company employed several men who had been working lately putting additional corn in the plant for future processing. New equipment was being added from time to time and the most recent was installed just a few weeks ago.

A granery was saved in which a quantity of corn was stored and firemen also kept watch on the house occupied by Robert Freeman which was directly in the path of the blaze.

FLOOD THREAT SWELLS

Flood waters of the swollen Mississippi river were receding today as far south as Cape Girardeau, Mo., but elsewhere in the mid-west, and southward to the mouth of high water was mounting. In central and eastern Texas, the toll had risen to eight dead, 20 injured and one missing following torrential rains, hail and heavy winds. The Rocky river in east Texas was three miles wide in some places.

"Things To Come"
This plan in no way implies that we have any "secret" information as to when these things will be made again. It will no doubt be months. We only know that they will come some time. The War Department alone can tell when goods for civilians will be released, and that depends on the progress of Victory.
Our thought in that by this plan we may be fair to all when the scramble for the new things comes.
FIRST CHOICE RESERVED for CLUB MEMBERS . . .
★ HERE'S ALL YOU DO It will be a case of "first come, first served." If you want FIRST CHOICE, come to our store and apply for membership in our 1944 Merchandise Club. Only a small fee is required. Then, when we receive our appliances, you will be notified so you can come to our store and make your purchase. You are not obligated to buy. You may withdraw at any time from membership in our 1944 Merchandise Club and your fee will be refunded.
★ NO WAITING! NO RED TAPE! NO DELAY!
It will only take a few moments of your time here at the store while we fill out your Certificate. As a result, you, as a member of our 1944 Merchandise Club, will be among the first in this city to get the brand new appliances you need so badly. When you buy, your fee becomes a part of the down payment.
DON'T WAIT. COME IN TOMORROW AND JOIN THIS "1944 MERCHANDISE CLUB".
Don't wait! Don't put off coming down to this store for your Certificate. The sooner you join our 1944 Merchandise Club, the sooner you will get the appliances you need. Remember . . . this plan does not obligate you to buy and your membership fee will be refunded upon request.

MISS ROSELLA SHEEHE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd T. Sheehe of 276 Silver street and John Mahoney, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Moloney of 491 East Fairground street were united in marriage yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Mary Catholic church. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Father William J. Spickerman.

The bride wore a dress of white embossed organza with a fingertip veil attached to a white lace Juliet cap. She carried a white prayer book to which was pinned a pale yellow intimate orchid. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls.

Miss Martha Fahan was the bride's maid-of-honor and she wore a pale blue summer crepe dress made in the same style as the bridal gown. A halo of flowers held a shoulder-length veil to her head and her flowers were white daisies and blue delphinium made into a colonial bouquet. She also wore pearls.

Serving as best man for the bridegroom was Robert Granger and the ushers were John Sheehe, uncle of the bride and Robert Tobin.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Sheehe chose a navy blue two-piece dress with white accessories and a corsage of garden roses. The bridegroom's mother also wore gardenias on a dark blue dress with matching accessories.

Following the ceremony a breakfast was served to the wedding party at the Sheehe home after which more than 65 guests were entertained at a reception. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Vernon Allmon of Fort Wayne, Ind., Mrs. Elma Kirby of Anderson, Ind., Mrs. Charles Sheehe and Miss Marie Sheehe of Cleveland and Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Fisher of Upper Sandusky.

When the couple left for a week's wedding trip in the east Mrs. Moloney was attired in a light blue wool suit with white accessories. Upon their return they will make their home at 183 Silver street.

The new Mrs. Moloney graduated from St. Mary High school in 1938 and has been employed as a secretary at the Bernard R. Smith Insurance Co. She is a member of Zeta Theta chapter, Alpha Iota sorority. Mr. Moloney was graduated from St. Gregory High school and attended St. Gregory seminary in Cincinnati. He is a conductor with the Erie Railroad Co.

Mrs. Grant James entertained the Jolly Hour club Friday evening at her home on Latourette street. Mrs. Sam Baker of Kenton, a former member, was a guest and invited the group to be guests at her home for a picnic in the early summer. Prizes were won by Mrs. Hattie Titus, Mrs. Ruth Pope and Mrs. Jane Wise.

Mrs. Eva Hall of 913 Bernet street entertained a group of young people recently in honor of the fourth birthday of her daughter, Barbara Ann. A cake bearing lighted candles centered the table. Games and contests were enjoyed and the celebrant received many gifts.

Guests were Nancy Northrup, Dolores Oiler, Corky Dowdy, Carolyn Riley, Twila Byrd, Mary Schreck, Grace Disterdick, Lollie Hartley and Marcella Bolander.

Mrs. J. A. Burgin of Windsor street was hostess when the Silver Tea club of St. Paul's Episcopal church entertained with a farewell party Friday evening honoring Mrs. Charles Allen who will leave soon to make her home in New York City. The evening was spent with cards and Mrs. Fanny Benson entertained with music. Guests aside from the club members were Mrs. Eva Wilson and Mrs. C. S. Thomas. Mrs. Allen, who will make her home with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Allen, was presented a gift.

Lecture-Recital Junior Group Selects Officers

OFFICERS for 1944-1945 were elected when the Junior Lecture-Recital club met Monday night at the home of Ann Proost of 289 Dunbar drive. Those named were Patricia Bland, president; Patricia Caulfield, vice president; Corrine Nees, secretary and Alan Cleveland, treasurer.

Following the singing of the National Junior Hymn and the club collect, the roll call was answered with "My Favorite Song." The study topic, "Songs of Romance and Faith" was in charge of Mrs. Karl Schell. A letter from the Junior magazine, "China's Children," was read by Patricia Caulfield. Reports and comments from the Junior division's Competitive Festival in Columbus last Saturday were given by Mrs. Schell, club councilor, Mrs. Harry Mautz, Central District Junior councilor, Dana Neutzel and Phyllis Horne.

Mrs. E. N. Hale, hymn study chairman, gave two hymns, "The Heavens Declare Thy Glory" by Birks and Matthews and "All My Heart This Night Rejoices" by Kernardt and Parker. The following musical program was presented: vocal solo, "Snowballs" Schumann and "To the Hour of Farewell" Layman, by Peggy Hale; piano solo, "The Bouree" Bach by Donna Rudy; vocal solo, "The Lilac Tree" Gartlan, by Diane Cheney accompanied by Ruth Ann Haskell; piano solo, "Fifth Nocturne" Field by Ann Proost.

Guests were Mrs. J. F. Lacey and Miss Haskell.

8,343 PLANES BUILT IN U. S. IN APRIL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 3 — Aircraft production declined in April to a total of 8,343 planes, compared with a record output of 9,118 in March, the war production board announced yesterday.

Part of the decrease was planned, Charles E. Wilson, WPB executive vice chairman told a press conference. But total output was slightly below even the lower schedule, he said.

Production in terms of airframe weight also was off, dropping about six per cent to a total of 96,000,000 pounds, as compared with 103,400,000 in March. However because of fewer working days in April, weight output per day set a new record of 3,840,000 pounds, up 84,000 pounds over March.

Despite the drop in the total planes rolling off assembly lines, "we got all the planes we wanted" Wilson said, adding that requirements for tactical planes in particular were met.

"We did not reach our goal because we decided to hold over on some planes, mostly trainers, until next month," the WPB aircraft production board chairman said.

He said production of heavy bombers now is "substantially above" the 1,000-a-month mark, and that production of the new B-29 super-fortress was "on schedule" in April.

Combat type planes constituted 77 per cent of April output to set a new high.

While the character of the weekly publication has not been changed, the editors are striving to make it more human and provocative. The speaker pointed out the change in the cover. He also spoke of the correspondents sent by the Post to various parts of the world in order that a background for the news of the day may be presented.

Illustrating his talk, Mr. Harding showed several drawings. He pointed out that a good cover for a magazine must convey strength, character, quality and human interest. Artists who use ideas of their own to illustrate a point are much more effective in their portrayal than those who do only as they are told, he said.

Guests were Dave Little, visiting Rotarian from Mansfield, Dwight Mahaffey of Morral, J. W. Hurst of Cleveland, K. Hampton of Columbus, H. R. Mustin of Mansfield, H. I. Bassler, William Collins, H. G. Greenfield, Ensign Ed Eaton and Paul D. Michel.

Members of the board of directors who were reelected for another term were Mr. Busick, Charles E. Cox, Judge Hazen, Rev. Howard Olewiler. New members of the board serving for the first time are Reuben A. Anderson, J. Howard Swink and J. Wendell Wiant. Supt. Holt as a past president automatically will become a member of the board to serve a term of one year.

ANNUAL JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET HELD AT WALDO

Program With Nautical Theme Is Presented.

The gymnasium of Waldo High school was the scene of the annual junior-senior banquet Friday night. Seniors were guests of the junior class.

A nautical theme was carried out in the program. Jean Payne, president of the junior class, acted as toast mistress and gave the welcome. A response was given by Vinton Porterfield, senior class president. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rice presented a piano duet. "Treasure Chest," the senior class will, was read by Robert Beringer. A short talk was given by D. T. Mills, superintendent of county schools, on the subject, "Sail On." Louise Bender played a piano solo. Clyde Forry, superintendent of Waldo schools, wished the seniors a "pleasant voyage." "Sea of Dreams," the senior class prophecy, was read by J. C. Klingel. Following the program the evening was spent dancing to the music of the Miley orchestra of Marion.

Members of the faculty, County Superintendent and Mrs. D. T. Mills were guests.

Seniors who were guests at the banquet included Vinton Porterfield, president, Junior Laucher, vice president, Doris Clark, Betty Denman, Annie Eckard, Jane Healea, Arthur Kaelber, Betty Knappenberger, Dorothy Stratton, William Snyder, Laurabelle Stein, secretary, Fannie Eckard, treasurer, Marguerite Thomas, Darlene Walters, Clarence Wetzel, George Wiseman.

The committee of mothers and sisters of junior class members in charge of preparing the dinner included Mrs. Harles Moyer, chairman, Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. Oscar Helby, Mrs. Roscoe Groll, Mrs. Virgil Payne, Misses Marie Bender and Hazel Clunk. Sophomore girls served the banquet.

Guard Company Plans Activities; 4 Men Signed

Regular drill of Co. M, Ohio State Guard unit, held Tuesday night included special formations directed by Cpl. Ralph Young, hand grenade practice supervised by Sgt. Tim Fahey and mob control by Capt. Carl Ebert. A portion of the drill period was held outdoors.

Plans were made for the drill scheduled for this Sunday. Rifle practice, aiming and sighting, triangulation and actual firing will be given. A work detail will start a spring housecleaning of the squad rooms and clubroom. Dinner prepared by Sgt. Floyd Sutton, mess sergeant and Cpl. Paul Perry will be served at noon.

Four new recruits were accepted, bringing actual membership to 59. They are: Robert Temple, Rodger Burden, Edward Simmons, and Damon Dutton, a reenlistment. Lt. Elmer E. Smith stated that at least four more are necessary to assure perfect attendance on school and drill night.

INSPECTION DATE SET

Plans for the semi-annual inspection of Job's Daughters were announced last night at a practice session in the Masonic temple. The event is scheduled for May 9 with Mrs. Mary Herrick, grand guardian, and John R. Barber, assistant guardian, both of Cleveland, conducting the inspection. A class of 20 is expected to be initiated. A potluck supper at 6 p. m. will precede the inspection.

MacArthur Unavailable

GEN. MACARTHUR'S unequivocal withdrawal from the field of Republican presidential candidates leaves the race where it always was destined to be in the showdown—between Gov. Dewey of New York and Gov. Bricker of Ohio.

It is interesting—more than that, it is important—to note that when Gen. MacArthur made himself unavailable, he stood second in the Gallup poll. As holder of second place, he had inherited the position of Wendell Willkie in the poll.

Yet, in the case of both Mr. Willkie and Gen. MacArthur, they existed as presidential possibilities only in popular speculation—and Mr. Willkie learned in Wisconsin that popular speculation could be misleading as a guide to a political figure's vote-pulling power in a showdown.

George Gallup, himself, the director of American Institute of Public Opinion, has called attention to the deception of rating presidential candidates according to their standing in what really amounts to a publicity popularity contest. Referring to Gov. Dewey's lead in the same poll which placed Gen. MacArthur in second place, Director Gallup said.

"This does not, of course, mean that his nomination is assured, since candidates are selected by convention delegates, not by the rank and file. Gov. Dewey had a substantial lead at this time four years ago. Yet in the final pre-convention poll he was passed by Willkie, the eventual convention choice."

The Gentlemen Should Yield

SENATORIAL interest in bargain tax rates for dependents in a revised income tax law may lead some legislators to wrong conclusions. Contrary to what seems to be a common impression, the birth rate cannot be affected substantially by increasing income tax allowances for dependents.

The senators should yield to the obvious fact that children are born and reared in ratio to existence of so many other circumstances that a difference of a few dollars one way or the other in tax allowances is insignificant. Parents are grateful when congress in its collective wisdom concedes that the cost of rearing children is an important consideration in levying taxes, but they can be only incredulous when congressmen talk as if the birth rate could be accelerated by the simple expedient of revising estimates of what constitutes a fair allowance for tax purposes. There is no price that can be set on the assumption of parental responsibility. The dictatorships have tried that in one form or another, sometimes going to the ridiculous extreme of trying to influence the birth rate with bonus payments for parenthood. But to assume that Americans can be persuaded to put a price on parenthood is to reveal complete lack of understanding of the diverse and complex factors which cause fluctuations in the American birth rate, the least of which is income tax allowances for dependent children.

One-Man Party

ONE of the facts of American government which Americans haven't liked to think about the last few years is the potential importance of the vice president. It has been convenient to forget Mr. Wallace's shortcomings, for instance. If President Roosevelt seeks reelection this year to a fourth term, however, the identity of his running mate will be of very great importance.

The Democratic party, in contrast with the Republican party, has degenerated in candidate material to the point where all its hopes are pinned on one man, Mr. Roosevelt. Unless he runs for the presidency, the party's popular appeal is apparently negligible. But if he does run, there still will be a serious question of a running mate. Giving Mr. Wallace full credit for his abilities as a thinker, his countrymen must remain aware that if anything had happened to Mr. Roosevelt in the last four years the vice president as an executive would have been gravely handicapped by lack of support within his own party. This condition may bar him from consideration in this year's Democratic convention. Reelection of Mr. Roosevelt next November would make the identity of the vice president of vital concern.

The Democratic party, down to its last man for first position on the ticket, has no one at all of known presidential caliber available for the second position. The condition does not reflect on the individual abilities of Democrats, but rather on the curious political situation which has left Mr. Roosevelt after 12 years in the White House as the only party leader able to command party support—and that more by virtue of his position as chief executive than by sympathy with his ideas. Any man who seeks to round out 16 years (plus perhaps a fifth and sixth term) in the most strenuous public office ever created can not ask the electorate to take his potential successor on faith.

MANY WILL BE QUALIFIED.

Things work out. The postwar home will be so full of wonders that only a lady with machine-shop training could manage it.—Portland, Me., Express.

News Behind the News

Administration Seen Willing To Hit at Avery But Not His Farmer-Customers.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, May 3—At first the CIO New Deal crowd in Mr. Roosevelt's entourage—what is left of it—welcomed the opportunity to put Sewell Avery of Montgomery Ward in what they call "his place."

Now they are not so sure but what they and Mr. Roosevelt have been drawn into needless political difficulties, and some feel they were lured there deliberately by Avery. In the government notebook Avery is rated on a par with John Lewis, the labor leader who fights and fights tough. A chance to put him practically any place through the court would certainly be welcomed by the government group.

But there is a farm vote in this coming election. The farmers do not like CIO. More than any other group they happen to be customers of Montgomery Ward—and directly interested in holding its prices down.

Possible Avery Stand

Joy has consequently turned to an inquiring wonder here at the prospect that Avery will circulate those pictures of himself being thrown out of his office bodily by soldiers, with the notation to his farm customers:

"See, the CIO has got Mr. Roosevelt to put me out of the nonwar business of serving you just because I fought against the price increase that would have been necessary if I met CIO terms."

In fact, he already has advanced this theory of his case, which certainly will not hurt him or his business, even if a long drawn out series of court actions fails to show profit legally. For that losing legal prospect, he also has the consolation of strong support in congress where farm plus business elements certainly outweigh CIO.

Action Delayed

Obviously then this fight is not as one-sided as 10 invading troops seemed to make it temporarily, and it is not impossible that some lack of enthusiasm may develop in the government about being too mean against Avery after all. Mr. Roosevelt may have been thinking about these controlled undercurrents of the case when he deferred action against Avery. No mention has been made of the point that his War Labor Board sent three seizure cases up to him together. He acted in the other two immediately, but held back the Montgomery Ward action for several additional days.

Small Strikes

Worrisome also is the unnoticed expansion of small strikes. For some weeks the number in any one day has averaged 25. About 7 to 10 new ones occur each day, about double the earlier normal rate.

No general pattern is apparent in these strikes. They are not about fixed wages and hours, (at least not openly), but about a hundred smaller grievances.

Inasmuch as unions have not been able to continue to get wage advances the last few months, some are trying to get more cash each week through new wage devices (forcing reclassifications of employees, portal to portal pay in factories, and even short layoffs without pay.) Thus, without change in the base rate or more work, they may wangle increases.

Variety of Reasons

The most competent official authorities here suggest that many of the strikes are not in this category but were called just because the men were tired of working, or wanted to go shopping; that they are not all organized or union strikes, half are in factories employing less than 100 persons, and the rest involve plants employing from 100 to 500.

These do not generally cause any serious damage to strictly war production, they say, but are disturbing national war morale and show a lack of war consciousness which is doing labor's just cause no good.

World War a Year Ago

MAY 3, 1943

By The United Press

Moscow announces capture of Rzhev, 130 miles west and slightly north of Moscow, to the south. Soviet forces continue to have trouble with heavy German counter-attacks in the Donets region.

German bombers make a weak retaliation raid on London.

In Central Tunisia, United Nations forces advanced toward Sidi Bou Zid from Sbeitla.

In London, A. L. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, declares heavy future shipping losses should be expected.

Elmer Davis, head of the OWI, says that sinkings of United Nations merchantmen have been higher in February than in January.

Washington reports nine air attacks during February on Japanese base at Kiska Island in the Aleutians.

TUNING UP FOR THE GRAND MARCH

Germans Put Faith in Strong Atlantic "Wall"

Invasion Will Test Theory of Static Defense.

MARSHAL ROMMEL, Hitler, Goering and other German officials have posed for many pictures during inspections of the defenses along the Atlantic coast of western Europe. The defenses frequently are called the "Atlantic wall."

Strictly speaking, however, they are not a wall, nor even an unbroken line of fortifications. The defenses are an elaborate series of strong positions, guarding likely invasion points.

The great unanswered question of the invasion is whether the Germans will be victims of the same wall illusion that has betrayed other nations in the past. Dependence on a wall for defense is known to go back at least as far as the city of Nineveh, protected by a wall more than 50 miles long as early as 2,000 B. C.

Naturally, the higher and thicker the wall, the better. So the practice grew in ancient times of building two parallel walls and filling in the space between with dirt. That allowed a width at top sufficient for large bodies of men to speed from one part of the wall to another. Also, the practice grew of erecting protruding towers along the wall, from which defenders could discharge flanking fire or launch sorties against forces attacking other parts of the wall.

THE Great Wall of China built about 215 B. C. to keep out Tartar invaders from the north, extended for 1,500 miles up and down hills and mountains, across valleys and plateaus. It had an average height of 22 feet and an average width at top of about 15 feet, enough to constitute a roadway. Towers were stationed about every 100 yards.

The Roman conquerors of Britain built a wall between Carlisle and Newcastle, a distance of 50 miles, to keep out marauding Picts and Scots. This Roman wall across northern England, parts still visible, was 12 feet high, nine feet thick.

In a sense, the Pyrenees act as a wall between Spain and the rest of Europe, and the Alps act similarly for Italy. No such mountain wall cuts off the Balkan peninsula, and perhaps that is one reason why the Balkans have not developed a single nationalism like that of Spain or Italy.

IN MODERN times, the concept of the solid defense wall was abandoned. Just as no chain was stronger than its weakest link, the solid wall was vulnerable whenever the enemy took over one sector of it. Defense engineers began to rely on a series of strong individual positions. The enemy would not dare to advance while any of those remained untaken, a constant threat to his rear. In 1914 the great fortresses of Belgium—the 12 clustered around Liege, the nine around Namur, the 17 around Antwerp—were expected to hold up any German advance through Belgium long enough to give the French army time enough to get into full defense array. But the new German guns pounded the Belgian fortresses into submission in a few days. However, the slight delay caused the German advance did prove invaluable to the Allied armies. Later in the war, the great forts at Verdun held out against the full might of German assault.

After the war the Maginot Line, along the German-French frontier, was a throwback to earlier ideas of a solid defense line. The so-called Little Maginot Line, along the Belgian-French frontier, was much less pretentious; in 1940 the Germans had little trouble in sweeping through it and thus taking the Maginot Line in the rear. The individual "pillbox" defenses used effectively by the Japanese at Tarawa had to be captured individually.

Hollandia Bay

The battle area in Netherlands New Guinea opened by Allied landing at Hollandia and Tanahmerah Bays, lies along one of the world's least developed and normally untraveled shores, says National Geographic News Bulletin.

Hollandia port is the last stop on the eastward stretch of the Netherlands' 3,000 miles of East Indies possessions. Only about 90 miles farther east is the borderline that separated Netherland from British administration of the big New Guinea island.

The pre-war town of Hollandia, which dispatches say the Japanese had turned into a major air base, had a population of several hundred natives and a few whites. It was a district headquarters under Netherlands administration, with a small mission, an auxiliary post office, and a trading station. Little developed economically, this region was known to the outside world chiefly for its export of the skins of beautiful birds of paradise, a traffic restricted by the Netherlands government in recent years. Before the war, regular ship service was only every four weeks.

Many native villages are scattered along this coastal section of the Netherlands New Guinea.

AWOL Tombstones

By The Associated Press

SIOUX FALLS—During the absence of any AWOL soldier at the Army's Air Forces radio school here, a tombstone adorns his bunk.

Beaverboards 20 inches high and 16 wide carry the name of the absentee, number of days AWOL and the terse wording: "Went AWOL, leaving us his work to do as well as our own."

Maj. C. T. Flota, who devised the tombstone statues, says the number of AWOL's has decreased until it is almost negligible."

Interview for a Success Story

REPORTER—I called for a story on your success in business.

Businessman—Make it fast; anything can happen to me any minute.

Reporter—To what do you attribute your rise to the head of a great American business?

Businessman—Just my hard luck, I guess.

Reporter—As a young man didn't you aspire to be a businessman?

Businessman—Yes, but that was back when I never saw pictures of businessmen being tossed out of their offices like saloon bums.

• • •

Reporter—Did you start at the bottom and work up?

Businessman—Yes, but I found the reverse trip faster under government auspices.

Reporter—When you first started did you work hard?

Businessman—I got to work every morning at 7 a. m.

Reporter—Why so early?

Businessman—I have just discovered the chief advantage was that it trained me to get in ahead of the army.

• • •

Reporter—Did you put in long hours?

Businessman—I agreed until I heard the bugle blow taps.

Reporter—Army buses have nothing to do with a businessman's routine.

Businessman—That's what YOU think.

• • •

Reporter—How many employes were there in the plant when you started work there?

Businessman—We had 30 men.

Reporter—How many are there now?

Businessman—A recent check showed 3,000 regular employes and 4,000 soldiers and 45 federal agents.

Reporter—Did you ever have any special training for a business career?

Businessman—Oh yes. I was a football star for years, I once worked in a Wild West show and I was caught in numerous street riots.

• • •

Reporter—Did you make an, relations business?

Businessman—No, the others all wanted something permanent.

• • •

Reporter—What do you think of the future of American industry?

Businessman—I think it lacks one thing in order to have any future.

Reporter—What?

Businessman—Fox holes.

Parasites

Everything comes eventually to those who wait. That's stretching it, but it's a fact paper clips will come that way. Like rabbits, they will multiply if ignored.

And rubber bands, when there were rubber bands, accumulated through a salvage process. An alert operator can pick up enough stray pencils and erasers to keep himself supplied. Scratch paper comes to hand by the easy route.

The gift system in vogue among female relatives will supply him with more than enough handkerchiefs, the never-fail recourse of the Christmas shopper. Neckties and socks will come to hand the same way. All that's needed to keep the suspender and belt supply up to snuff is an occasional hint.

Shirts always will be on hand if the size and sleeve length are kept posted. No man ever needs to buy cuff links, tie clips and such accessories as pocket knives, watch chains, dress shirt studs and fancy collar buttons.

With the exception of one pipe purchased on a bargain counter and smoked on the sly until the aroma of tobacco served notice of intent, this correspondent never has had to buy a pipe. The pipes just came and along with them came humidors, lighters, boxes of cigars and various other accessories.

While it would be out of the question to claim that books can be accumulated entirely by the process of accretion, it is true that somewhat more than half of all books on hand simply came to hand without any conscious effort exerted, plus a good many that were borrowed and never returned.

Every year, well wishers and other sympathizers furnish more flower seeds than could be planted short of a 10-acre estate. Then there is the matter of kittens. Throughout many years of kitten-owning there never has been a single instance where the kitten was obtained by deliberate effort. Kittens show up one day on the back porch and stay, or are placed in a good home by someone with kittens to dispose of.

Pamphlets, good advice, puppies, membership in various organizations, assorted courtesy cards, assorted stickers for windshields, subscriptions to little known magazines, dozens of small gadgets, mechanical pencils, paper weights bearing good will advertising, miscellaneous barbery—all these and more will come to those who wait. They will come, also, to those who don't wait, but have rushed out in the meantime to seize the initiative and load up their lives with a lot of stuff they could have used for nothing.

[illegible] plants again were estab- lished at the gates of the sprawling factories.

The work stoppage which began April 20 apparently had been settled last week-end on the basis of terms drawn up by the national wartime labor relations board in conferences with union and company representatives at Ottawa.

Union officials, however, expressed dissatisfaction with the board's recommendations for grievance procedure, and the mass meeting was called. The stoppage decision, however, was opposed by Roy England, president of Local 200 of the union, while a telegram from George Burt, Canadian director of the U. A. W., from Chicago said the international board wished the men to return to work.

The telegram from Burt said: "It is my belief the company is trying to jeopardize the union's position with the board. Don't let the company force us into this position. The reputation of your union is at stake."

The original work stoppage on April 20 started when day-shift workers left their jobs for a "half-holiday" in protest over grievance procedure. A short time later the company notified the union it was terminating the collective bargaining agreement in effect since Jan. 15, 1942, on the grounds the walkout was a breach of contract.

Settlement of the stoppage was reached after the union and company accepted a recommendation of the national wartime labor relations board for a return to work pending negotiation of a new bargaining agreement.

the Navy up to quota strength and the others to fill replacement needs of both Army and Navy.

Here's how Costello pictured the draft situation for this year.

Men over 26: Few, if any, will be taken; most of those inducted from this group will be single men, who number 750,000 out of the total of 2,225,000 men of all ages in 1-A on April 1.

Men under 26 (regardless of marital status): almost half of the 1,100,000 holding occupational and agricultural deferments will be inducted; this group, Costello said, "is going to be hard hit, because the armed services need these younger men."

To meet this year's requirements of 1,385,000 men, Costello used these figures: 540,000 becoming 18 this year; 425,000 to 450,000 from the group under 26 now deferred because of occupation; 375,000 to 420,000 non-fathers now in 1-A.

Steel Company Accused of Covering Up Facts

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, May 3—Special Prosecuting Attorney Robert L. Wright charged the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. with "wilfully and knowingly covering up facts and falsifying records" yesterday as he made the opening address in the government's case against the steel company.

One indictment charges the "big steel" subsidiary on 47 counts of falsifying records of tests made on steel ship plates for government agencies. The second indictment charges the corporation with concealing records of tests.

Time of Invasion Is Set by Allies To Exact Moment

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

We've been told that D-day for the great invasion of western Europe has been set, and British Labor Minister Ernest Bevin confided to war-workers at the week-end that he even knew the precise moment, though he dared not reveal it.

It will seem strange to most folk that an unprecedented amphibious attack — an operation which literally is an adventure into the unknown—can be pinned down with such exactness. Still, it is because of its very magnitude and uniqueness that there must be as much exactness as is humanly possible.

However, we can take it for granted that, despite an exact date, the time can be altered to meet an unforeseen emergency. It's obvious that a date which depends to considerable degree on untested elements must be conditional to that extent.

Weatherman Rules

This point was illustrated at the time of our Sicilian invasion. The day before D-day a freak 33-knot wind developed suddenly, whipping up waves that made hundreds of soldiers sick and worried their officers. Vice Admiral H. K. Hewett, commander in chief of the U. S. naval forces in North African waters, called in Commander Richard C. Steere, the weather man who always gives the right answer. Steere said the wind would die down and advised no change in plans. But the time of the invasion presumably would have been altered if his report had been adverse.

Barring this qualification as to flexibility, we can be sure that plans have been worked out exactly. While the zero hour can't be guaranteed weeks in advance, what can be fairly well guaranteed is that things will follow a certain course after the zero hour has been reached.

In the matter of ordinary land offensives, operations are worked out to a fineness that's uncanny. Days before a big drive the whole thing has been reduced to decimal point exactness. The maps show just where attacking troops will be at precise times as the line advances. Everything corresponds to this precision. Only in that way can the all-important coordination be achieved along the whole front.

Some Upsets Expected

Of course, the best planned offensives are likely to have local upsets, such as some unit being held up by fierce opposition. However, these can be compensated for, as the occasion may demand because of the precision of the operation as a whole.

Naturally there's a great difference between the orthodox land offensive and the forthcoming invasion which involves land, air and water to an extent that in some respects is outside the experience of man. There will, for instance, probably be a use of paratroopers and other airborne forces on a scale heretofore only a strategist's dream. Indications are that a huge army will be dropped from the skies into areas behind the main enemy lines.

However, there will be nothing haphazard about it. Every body of paratroopers will be landed in a spot planned long in advance. Thus where there are upsets, the allied command will be able to compensate, just as in the case of the orthodox offensive. I dare say the invasion plans in Commander-in-Chief Eisenhower's hands run literally into volumes of detail.

There's one situation we onlookers must be prepared for. Many confusing things are likely to happen after the invasion starts—things which only the allied command can understand. Indeed some of these mysteries will be deliberately perpetrated by our command to fool the enemy. At a time of great tension, events which aren't understandable are bound to cause worry, but in the forthcoming invasion there's no need to let them get us down in the mouth.

VAN VOORHIS DECORATED

COLUMBUS, O., May 3—The legion of merit medal was being flown here in a special plane from Washington today for presentation to Maj. Gen. Daniel Van Voorhis of near Zanesville for his work in organizing defenses in the Caribbean area. Two hundred troops will pass in review of General Van Voorhis during the presentation on the Fort Hayes parade ground. A retired Army officer who rose from the rank of private, he headed the Caribbean defense command for two years, starting October 1939.

GANDHI GROWS WORSE

BOMBAY, May 3—A government communique said today that the anemic condition from which Mohandas K. Gandhi is suffering has grown worse and that his blood presure has fallen, "giving rise to some anxiety."

HEALTH QUIZ

	YES	NO
Do you have poor digestion?	☐	☐
Do you feel headachy after eating?	☐	☐
Do you get sour or upset easily?	☐	☐
Do you feel tired—listless?	☐	☐

Now everyone knows that to get the good out of the food you eat—you must digest it properly. But what most people don't know is that Nature must produce about two pints of the digestive juice—liver bile—each day to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested, ferment sour and heavy within you.

Thus, it is simple to see that one way to aid digestion is to increase the flow of liver bile. Now, Carter's Little Liver Pills start to increase this flow quickly for thousands—often in as little as thirty minutes. When bile flow increases, your digestion may improve. And, soon you're on the road to feeling better—which is what you're after.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's, taken as directed, aid digestion after Nature's own order. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today—only 25¢. You'll be glad you did.

GIRL SIAMESE TWINS BATTLING FOR LIFE

By The Associated Press

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa., May 3—Doctors say they can't possibly live, but the tiny, blond Sturdy siamese twins continued to wage a stubborn battle against death today.

Isolated in the nursery of the Phoenixville hospital where they were born early Sunday, their little hearts beating 150 to 160 times a minute, the girls won a momentary fight against a temperature of 104.

Dr. J. Elmer Gotwals said both appeared hungry early today and were fed a condensed milk formula by attending nurses. Later their temperature dropped to 103.

Last night Dr. Gotwals said he believed both were "failing fast and the smaller child isn't breathing as often."

"Without the oxygen she is getting from her sister the smaller child could not survive," the physician said.

"It is a strain on the stronger and larger girl, and both are sinking fast. They cannot live."

Dr. Gotwals said he expected the smaller child to die first and the other girl to follow shortly after. The smallest girl's head is about two-thirds as large as her sister's and her circulatory system is bad, he said.

Mrs. Mary Sturdy, the 24-year-old mother of the twins, saw her babies for the first time yesterday. They are joined together at the pelvis, sharing a common alimentary tract and common buttocks. Covered with a sheet, only their heads at opposite ends of the crib were visible to her. Physicians say they cannot be separated by surgery.

Yugoslav Partisans Capture Two Towns

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 3—Yugoslav partisans have captured two towns north and northeast of Zagreb, capital of Croatia, but an axis drive west of Zagreb has forced them to withdraw in several places, headquarters of Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) said today.

A broadcast bulletin identified the captured towns as Bednja, 40 miles northeast of Zagreb, and Columbovac, 25 miles north of the city, which was hammered recently by Allied bombers. The comunique added that axis troops, after several attempts to capture Ivanec, a third town near Zagreb, withdrew.

A German offensive in Slovenia was said to be continuing.

The Yugoslav broadcast also said partisans had captured a German armed steamer and crew in a harbor on the Dalmatian coast.

NEW EGG PRICES

WASHINGTON, May 3—The war food administration is expected to announce soon an increase of from 1 to 2 cents a dozen in its spring season buying prices for some classes of eggs. The move is designed to bring producer prices more nearly into line with government levels.

Amazing Way for "RUN-DOWN" people to get NEW VITALITY..PEP!

1—Promote the flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach
2—Energize your body with RICH, RED BLOOD!
THESE two important steps may help you to overcome the discomforts or embarrassment of sour stomach, jerky nerves, loss of appetite, underweight, digestive complaints, weakness, poor complexion!
A person who is operating on only a 70 to 75% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 30 to 60% normal is severely handicapped. So with ample stomach digestive juices PLUS RICH, RED-BLOOD you should enjoy that sense of well-being which denotes physical fitness . . . mental alertness!
If you are subject to poor digestion or suspect deficient red-blood as the cause of your trouble, yet have no organic complication or focal infection, S.S.S. METHODISTS MAP HUGE POST-WAR ERA PROGRAM

Church Plans $23,000,000 "Crusade for Christ."

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, May 3—Methodists were called upon today to undertake a $23,000,000 post-war reconstruction program to be known as a "Crusade for Christ."

Plans for the crusade, which some church leaders said would be the most significant work of this quadrennial general conference, were disclosed in a report by the committee of 21.

The crusade, as proposed, would have five major objectives, the report stated.

(1) To establish an international organization for permanent peace.

(2) To rebuild church property and rehabilitate peoples in war areas.

(3) A churchwide evangelistic campaign.

(4) Cultivation of Christian stewardship.

(5) To increase enrollment in Sunday schools and related organizations.

Churchill Says Empire To Solve Own Problems

LONDON, May 3—A major reason for the British commonwealth conference now in progress in London, declares Prime Minister Churchill, is to "make all the watching world realize" the British empire "stands together, woven into one family of nations, capable of solving our common problems * * *."

"It is right," he told the empire premiers in welcoming them to No. 10 Downing street, "that the British empire in its collective aspect should put itself solidly on the map * * *."

Churchill's Monday address, made public today, said he did not expect that "in the heat of war we shall reach complete solution of all problems that confront the British empire and yet mankind, but it's high time we got around the table to exchange views and ideas."

MARION BOWS TO LIMA, 8 TO 5, IN STATE LEAGUE OPENER

Locals Lose in Abbreviated Contest Before 1,500.

By CHARLES ELLIOTT

ATTESTING to the widely-held opinion that baseball is hungry for professional competition, baseball-starved fans in Marion gave a rousing welcome to Marion's new Ohio State league team Tuesday night at Lincoln park last night as some 1,500 fans turned out to see the Lima Red Birds hang up an 8 to 5 victory in one of three games that opened the loop season.

Lincoln's roofless concrete grandstand was almost filled and many onlookers chose to stand along the foul lines to see the untested Marion nine put up a closely-fought, interesting struggle, an abbreviated one at that. Play was called with two out in the first half of the eighth inning because of darkness, which made it next to impossible and obviously precarious to field ground and fly balls. Lima had racked up four more runs in the top half of the eighth but the final score reverted to the end of the seventh inning, the last complete stanza.

In some departments of play, the Marconiter managed by veteran Grover Hartley, excelled the Lima visitors, farmhands in the St. Louis Cardinal chain. The locals banged out 13 hits to Lima's 8, but the invaders got theirs in clusters, whereas the Marion safeties were somewhat scattered by winning pitcher Ken Watson, Lima right hander.

Although he was charged with the loss, Randy Edwards, left hander who hurled the entire game for Marion, made an impressive showing. He was rather wild, giving up eight walks, but at times he performed with the composure and craftsmanship of a tried-and-true star. He's a tall, husky boy and may develop into the local club's number one moundsman. Edwards hadn't seen Lincoln park before he stepped onto the field for a pre-game workout last night. He arrived only yesterday afternoon, about four hours before game time, from Jamestown, N. Y., where he had previously played in the Class D Pony league.

The game provided many thrills for the crowd and probably chief among these were two home runs, one by a Lima player, Left Fielder Earl Reside and the other by Bob Boddy, diminutive, peppy Marion third sacker. Both four-baggers cleared the left field fence with feet to spare. Reside's blow came with Team Mate Charley Paige on base early in the third inning and was the first hit off the slants of Marion's Pitcher Edwards. It was about 20 feet inside the left field foul line.

Boddy's homer was registered in the bottom portion of the fifth inning with the bases empty. This clout sailed over the fence about 10 feet from the foul post.

Paige Gets Two

Only one Lima player, Charley Paige, shortstop, was able to get to Edwards for more than one hingle. He garnered two singles. For Marion, two men, Shortstop Bob McDonald and nobody but Edwards himself counted for three hits in four trips. All Edwards' hits were singles while McDonald hit two singles and a double. Lima had only one extra base hit, Reside's homer while Marion had three, McDonald's double, Boddy's homer and Catcher Bill Heckelsmiller's two-bagger.

The pitching for both teams proved only average but satisfactory considering the short time the two flingers had to get in shape. The hitting left little to be desired. The fielding, however, was spotty. This was due partly to a lack of practice but probably largely due to the poor condition of the Lincoln diamond the park infield still contains numerous uneven spots which must be eliminated before the diamond can be considered top-flight for Class D baseball. Seven errors were recorded, four being made by Marion players and three by Lima.

The fielding seemed to grow worse as the game progressed but this could be attributed to darkness which was a big handicap to infielders and outfielders alike. In the eighth inning when Fred Shabeck, plate umpire, finally got around to stopping action, several ground balls escaped infielders simply because they couldn't locate the direction of the spheres in time. The umps contemplated halting the game at the end of the seventh but decided to continue for another inning, if possible, after a vigorous protest came from the Marion bench against calling it quits.

Both managers seemed to be fairly well pleased with the way their clubs performed in the opener last night. The game served mainly as a measuring stick for the managers with which they might gauge their lineups for future league games. A few positions on both teams were weak and will be strengthened for tonight's second game of the series at Lincoln park.

Second Game Tonight

Tonight's game will start at 6 o'clock and it is hoped it will be possible to play the regulation nine innings. Last night's game didn't start until after 6:30 and that extra half-hour may be just enough to complete the nine frames.

Marion Manager Hartley said he would start Bob Thackeray, the club's tallest player, 6 feet 6 inches, on the mound against Lima tonight. Probable starting catcher is Joe Bellamy, on option to Marion from the Richmond team of the Class B Piedmont league. Thackeray played for two seasons with the Hornell, N. Y., team of the Class D Pony circuit. Two other changes will be made in the starting Marion lineup for the second contest, Hartley said. These include the replacement of Bucher with Milo "Swede" Fahse of Watertown, Minn., at second base, and the selection of Warren Blunt of Richmond in left field, in place of Paul Michas. The rest of the lineup will be the same and the batting order will be identical with last night's as far as the positions are concerned. The new players in the lineup will take the place in the batting order of the men they replaced.

Two other players were sent to Marion on option from Jamestown, along with Pitcher Edwards. They are Howard Falatic of Patton, Pa., a shortstop, 17 years old, and Fred McInniss, catcher and outfielder from Princeton, Ind. Both should see action tonight.

Play at Lima

After tonight's game, the Marion and Lima teams continue their series at Lima Holloran Field tomorrow and Friday. After that, the locals go to Zanesville for a three game series and return to Lincoln park next Monday to encounter Middletown. Tomorrow night's game in Lima will get under way at 8:30 under the lights.

Glancing at the sidelights on last night's opener:

The pre-game ceremonies for the inaugural were various, including almost everything from music to awry baseball pitching. The musical side of the program was furnished by the Harding High school band which, accompanied the entire playing rosters of both the Lima and Marion teams, marched to center field and played the national anthem. Simultaneously, the Stars and Stripes was raised to the top of the flagpole under the direction of William E. Marks, chief of police.

The new uniforms arrived in time for last night's opener and all but two boys were outfitted. The new suits look classy, being modeled along the same lines as the New York Yankees' home uniforms. A big black "M" is inscribed on the front. The socks and caps are black. The Lima team wore the customary gray traveling uniforms, fashioned after those of the parent St. Louis Cards.

Also before the game, Joe Donnelly, president of the Lima team and former Ohio State league president, served as master of ceremonies for the introduction of a long list of persons. First on the list was Frank Colley of Columbus, last week elected league president. Then came the two managers, Cliff "Runt" Marr of Lima and Grover Hartley of Marion. The skippers, in turn, presented their teams to the crowd, the Marion outfit being lined up along the first base line and Lima along the third base side.

Mayor Is Wild

Quite a chuckle came from the stands when Mayor Harry L. Bowler and Harry "Patty" Weller teamed up to try to make a success of the "first ball" ceremony. The mayor's first two pitches were way wide of Catcher Weller's glove but the third managed to find its target although it was far from being across the platter.

There was no new screen covering the Lincoln grandstand last night. Although the spectators got no special protection, the press representatives did. A wire was strung across the press box, located on a plane with and directly behind home plate. . . . The scoreboard brought Sunday from Findlay was not used last night, the fans having to keep a count of runs made on their fingers. . . . The concession stand did a sizable business. Don Williamson, club attorney, Bill Luse and Maynard Smith, were in charge of this department. . . . Ken Watson, who hurled for Lima last night, originally came to the team as a catcher but was changed to mound duty when Manager Marr discovered his latent talents as a twirler. . . . Manager Hartley made a last minute change in starting hurlers for the game after Edwards came in on an afternoon train. His original choice to start was Bud Brooks, right hander from Portland, Ore.

Following is a box score and summary of last night's opening game:

18 Starters Likely To Face Barrier in Derby Saturday

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, May 3—Barring the usual case of a trainer's prerogative to change his mind, the names of 18 three-year-old horses will be dropped into the entry box at Churchill Downs early Friday morning for the 70th running of the richest of all Kentucky Derbies on the following day.

If all 18 should parade to the post around 1:45 p. m. (Central War Time), the race will have a gross value of $87,700 with the winner taking down a check of $66,200, some $2,000 more than Shut Out earned in copping the 1942 renewal. Not since War Admiral showed the way over the mile and a quarter to 19 starters in the 1937 turf classic have more than 15 horses faced the barrier.

The lines were pretty well drawn for America's No. 1 horse race yesterday when Broadcloth, owned by Mrs. George Poulson of Los Angeles, took the measure of Mrs. Payne Whitney's Broad Grin and four others in the mile of the Derby trial.

Trainer John Gaver lost no time in announcing he would not send Broad Grin out as a running mate for the stable's highly regarded Sir Up However, W. C. Davis' Rockwood Boy, and J. V. Maggio's American Eagle, third and fourth respectively, were listed as sure entries.

Play-by-Play of the Opener

Following is a play-by-play account of last night's Ohio State league opener:

FIRST INNING

Lima—The game opened with a howitzer drive to center field after a two out walk. Paige was thrown out on a fielder's choice, short to first. Reside lifted a home run over the left field fence. Zermia fanned for the second out. Fuller popped out to catcher Bill Heckelsmiller to retire the side, no runs, one hit.

Marion—Bucher popped out to pitcher Watson. Hensby singled over second base. McDonald grounded out, pitcher to first baseman, Hensby taking second. Burkwitt singled, scoring Hensby. McDonald was out at the plate, attempting to score first baseman to catcher. Michas was safe on an error by the shortstop, Burkwitt going to second. Burkwitt was safe on third in an attempt to steal as the third baseman dropped the ball. Burkwitt scored on Gregory's single to left field, Michas taking second. Boddy struck out. Heckelsmiller grounded out to first baseman, retiring the side. Two runs, three hits, no errors.

SECOND INNING

Lima—Ivey, Schmeideke, Smith and Watson were thrown out at first, short to first baseman, Paige was safe on first baseman's error, Paige taking second. Reside was thrown out at first, second baseman to first baseman, Paige taking third. Zermia was thrown out at first, second baseman to first baseman. Fuller grounded out, third baseman to first baseman. No runs, no hits, no errors.

WRESTLES HERE THURSDAY

Another all star card has been signed for the Marion Armory, Thursday night. The well known Black Panther will wrestle the popular Angelo Martinelli in the two hour main event. Both these boys are tops when it comes to clean, fast grappling and their match Thursday should stand out as one of the best.

The balance of the card will be two 45 minute matches (two out of three falls). "Tiger" Jack Moore will meet Leo Jensen in one match while Jackie Nichols will wrestle Red Ryan in the other. Probably the best known names of the four are Moore and Nichols but Ryan made quite a showing last week in the battle royal and Jensen has been wrestling around this part of the country for several years. Advance ticket sale at Markert & Lewis Cigar store. First match at 8:30.—Adv.

OHIO STATE LEAGUE OPENERS DECIDED BY NARROW MARGINS

Lima, Zanesville, Springfield Loom as the "Teams To Beat."

Lima, Zanesville and Springfield loomed as the "teams to beat" in the Ohio State league after last night's opening round of games. These teams won the openers, leaving Marion, Newark and Middletown in the second division temporarily.

Promise of lively competition was seen in the close scores in all of the games, no team winning by a margin of more than three runs.

Zanesville was high scorer of the day with 11, Marion was low with 5. Marion led in hits with 13. Middletown was low with 6, but boasted the cleanest playing of the day with only one error.

Summaries of all league games follow:

Lima	005 003 0—8	8	3
Marion	013 010 0—5	13	4

Watson and Giorvos, Edwards and Heckelsmiller.

Zanesville	11 00 000 000—11	8	6
Newark	0 00 301 004— 8	7	5

Red Birds in Virtual Deadlock with Brewers

By The Associated Press

The Columbus Redbirds gave idle Milwaukee something to think about yesterday as they won their eighth consecutive game and moved into a virtual deadlock for the American Association lead.

The Birds shelled Big Johnny Whitehead for 10 hits in six innings as they whipped Toledo 7 to 3, behind the eight hit pitching of Art Hopatka. George Stumpf homered for the Birds with two on in the third inning to account for three runs.

In the Association's only other game Louisville pounded out an 11 to 1 decision over Indianapolis. Nick Polly, Colonel third sacker, had a double, triple and home run, driving in four tallies and scoring a like number.

Jim Wilson scattered eight Indian hits as he racked up his third pitching triumph of the year. Louisville drove Dave Odom from the mound in the third frame and continued their 16-hit assault against Woody Rich.

The Minneapolis-St. Paul and Kansas City-Milwaukee games were postponed because of rain, but the Brewers held a slight percentage advantage over Columbus for first place, although the two are even on a game basis.

PRACTICE SET

First practice for members of the Sandwich Bar softball team will be held tonight at 6:30 p. m. in Garfield park, Manager Ed Cheney announced.

The average factory worker in Britain was earning $18.82 a week for an average week of 50 hours last year.

Rookie Schanz Finds It Helps Pitcher To Be a Good Hitter

By The Associated Press

You don't have to be a good hitter to be a winning pitcher in the big leagues, but Rookie Charley Schanz of the Phillies today knows it helps.

Schanz was only one of five major league hurlers who helped his own cause with a timely base knock in yesterday's games that quickened up the races in both circuits.

The big righthander whom the Phils drafted from San Diego is the shining example but Curt Davis of Brooklyn, Bill Dietrich of the White Sox, Johnny Niggeling of Washington and Hal Newhouser of Detroit have reasons to thank their own bats for adding something real to their win records.

Schanz might have lost a one-hitter if he hadn't been able to come up with a bases-loaded triple in the ninth to give the Phils a 5-2 verdict over the New York Giants. Up to then the Polo Grounders led on their one hit. Joe Medwick a homer after George Hausman had walked in the seventh.

Davis came on as a relief man with Brooklyn and Boston all tied up 6-6 in the 11th, blanked the Braves in the top half and then drove home Paul Waner with a single to break it up. Jim Tobin's no-hit streak was ended in the first inning and he gave way to a punch hitter after allowing seven hits in three innings as Brooklyn's 7-6 victory.

In Cleveland, Dietrich tossed a five-hitter in trimming the Indians 3-2, but he had to start his own Wahoo Sox rally with a single in the 10th. He moved around on LeRoy Schalk's single and romped home with the big run on Jimmy Webb's fly to center.

Newhouser chimed in with a double in Detroit's extra-base attack on St. Louis. Chuck Hostetler, Eddie Mayo and Rudy York were the other sluggers in handing the Brownies their first home loss, 4-3.

Niggeling's lone hit in backing up his own four-blow effort against Boston for a 5-2 victory did not help in the scoring but he prolonged a sixth inning rally by working Pinky Woods for a walk and helped another with a neat sacrifice in the eighth.

Hitting honors went to George Sturnweiss with his three singles as the Yankees moved into undisputed possession of second place by downing the Athletics, 4-3, but Bill Zuber and Jim Turner combined to limit the Mackmen to five safeties. Outfielder Tuck Stainback broke his right leg stealing second base in the third inning to force another reshuffling of the New York outfield.

In the only other big league game, Pittsburgh ended the Cardinals' four-game win streak with a 3-1 verdict for Preacher Roe who retired for a pinch hitter in the eighth, but got credit for the second victory. Chicago and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

CROWE GRANTED LEAVE

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, May 3 — Clare Crowe former athletic star at Notre Dame and for the past 12 years a member of the coaching staff at Xavier university here, returns to his alma mater. Crowe was given a duration leave yesterday to become head basketball coach and assistant football mentor at the South Bend, Ind., school. The change is effective July 1.

Sir Walter Raleigh was beheaded as a spy.

WILSON RETURNING TO CINCINNATI REDS

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 3—Jimmy Wilson rejoins his old teammates—and everyone is happy.

General Manager Warren Giles, of the Cincinnati Reds, announced last night he had signed the fiery ex-catcher as a coach for his team.

Wilson resigned his post as manager of the Chicago Cubs Monday after the team lost nine games in a row. At that time he said he thought someone else would be able to do better with the team and added he broke relationship with the Cubs' management amicably.

Immediately upon learning of the resignation, Giles went to Chicago for a conference with Wilson—the result of which was announced last night.

Wilson was a major factor in the Reds winning two pennants and a world championship in 1939 and 1940. He was the hero of the 1940 world series with Detroit.

Giles said Wilson will join the Reds in St. Louis Friday. No salary figures were disclosed.

The Reds arrive here today for the first of a two-game series with the Cubs. Bill McKechnie sends his Cuban right-hander Tomas De La Cruz to the mound while acting Cub Manager Roy Johnson starts Hank Wyse, who whitewashed the Reds in the season's opener.

Following two games at Wrigley Field, the Reds move to St. Louis for four games in three days with the Cardinals. They return to Crosley field to open with the New York Giants, May 10, for the first night game of the season in Cincinnati.

...or winning a welcome in Wailuku

Here's health is the happy expression of Hawaiian hospitality. Just as friendly is the Have a "Coke" of the Army flyer. In a few words he says, We are pals. In Wailuku or Wichita, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes—has become the symbol of friendly-minded folks in many lands, just as it is when you serve it in an American home.

"Coke" = Coca-Cola
It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".

Feature of regular Monday night league bowling was the capturing of the championship in the six-team City league at the Marion Recreation Center by Schaffner-Denzer in a roll-off game with Marion Recreation Center. Schaffner-Denzer compiled a 913 total to Recreation's 857 to take the title by a half-game margin.

Highlighting bowling in the Monday Nite Ladies league at the Palace Recreation were the 200 game and 483 series of Lillian Watson. M. Leffler, a woman kegler, took first honors in the Engineer Depot mixed loop at the Palace with a 163 line.

Babcock's 612 series and 222 game were the top marks in the regular session of the City league, which preceded the championship roll-off. Single game scores in the roll-off were: Marion Recreation —Putman 149, Tarr 163, Anthony 166, Hinze 149, and Babcock 230. Schaffner-Denzer—Hamilton 152, Dixon 215, Lenavitt 168, Monroy 199, and Chapman 179. Other high games in the City circuit were Babcock 209, Anthony 213, Wolbert 201, E. Dixon 210 and Kirts 201. Margaret Way's 186 ranked second and LaVerne Barber's 180, third in the Monday Nite Ladies league.

Following are standings in the City and Monday Nite Ladies leagues together with individual three-game-series totals in all three Monday night circuits:

JUDGE CROW SUIT NOW IN THIRD DAY

Special to The Star

KENTON, May 3—The suit of Attorney Carlos A. Faulkner of Kenton, on behalf of the state of Ohio, against the estate of the late Judge Phil M. Crow entered its third day today with every indication pointing to presentation of the case for consideration of Hardin County Common Pleas Judge Arthur D. Tudor tomorrow.

Seventeen witnesses for the state and as many for the defense will have testified when the case is completed. Faulkner is asking $400,000 for the state of Ohio as actual loss and punitive damages from presentation of alleged excessive expense statements by Judge Crow during more than a quarter of a century on the bench of the third appellate court, Lima.

The plaintiff contends that Crow, while actually residing in Lima, presented expense statements for imaginary trips from Kenton to that city daily while the appeals court was in session, and also presented other bills similarly for board and lodging. The actual loss to the state of Ohio from this practice amounts to some $18,000, it was conservatively estimated by fiscal experts from the office of the auditor of state.

Roy Warren Roof of Kenton is assisting Faulkner in prosecution of the case while Attorney Paul T. Mahon of Kenton and Attorney Oren A. Dickason of Lima are counsel for George C. Kreinbihl and the National Bank of Lima, executors of the Crow estate.

Several other money suits pending against the $800,000 Crow estate bring to nearly $1,000,000 the amount of money involved in the litigation. No other cases have been assigned for trial.

Farewell Service For Marion Pastor Held

Approximately 140 members of Emmanuel Baptist church and friends attended a farewell service and fellowship hour Monday night at the church and parsonage for the pastor, Ernest A. Finkenbiner, and his family, who will leave this week to take up the duties of the pastorate of Central Baptist church, Columbus. The service was opened with congregational singing led by Larne Beausey and a message was given by Rev. Cyril Collison of First Baptist church, Galion. By request Mr. and Mrs. Finkenbiner sang at the close of the program. At the fellowship hour the honored guests were presented gifts from the church. During his three and a half-year pastorate here Mr. Finkenbiner established Bible study projects of which he was teacher and was instigator of an African missionary project set-up by the congregation.

PAY RAISES VOTED BY GALION COUNCIL

Special to The Star

GALION, May 3—Raises in salary and wages for a number of employes of the city was made possible with the passing of an ordinance by city council, Tuesday night.

Benefiting from the pay hikes are employes of the police and fire departments, clerks in city offices, service and water departments, the City hospital technician and the head cook at the hospital, light and water office accountant, water foreman, water engineers, superintendent of construction, and others.

Raises in the police department amounted to about $5 a month, while street and water laborers received a five-cent per hour raise, and some city clerks were given hikes of $10 on their monthly salaries. The salary of the technician at City hospital was increased to $175 per month.

A spokesman for the street employes objected to the five cents per hour raise, inasmuch as employes in this department had petitioned for a ten-cent hike.

Mayor William Amann addressed council, telling of a number of proposed improvements for the city, including a garbage collection. An assistant superintendent at the municipal swimming pool will be employed this year at $35 a week, a new position made because of employment conditions. This was provided in an ordinance which listed the superintendent's salary as $38 a week, life guards at $25 a week, extra help, 71 cents per hour, and clerk hire at $10 per month.

175 ATTEND FISH FRY HELD BY SPORTSMEN

Committee Still Working On Site for Club House.

Approximately 175 members attended a fish fry held Tuesday night at Eagles hall by the Marion Fish and Game association. Summer meetings of the association will be continued, it was decided. Previously, plans had been made to cancel meetings during the summer months.

O. H. Neimeyer of Prospect, county game protector, discussed fishing and hunting laws and said that many violations had been discovered which resulted from ignorance of hunting and fishing rules. He advised an educational program in order to decrease the number of wrongdoers. Regulations are distributed with licenses. He also stated that several dams on the Whetstone built for fish conservation are in need of repair. The state is willing to assist the association in this project, he stated.

Plans are still incomplete on the final choice of a site for a club house. Members will decide soon on arrangements and meanwhile the committee which was set up to investigate sites has been authorized to pick a suitable tract and begin negotiations for purchase.

Co. M Auxiliary Officers Elected

Mrs. Ruth McEldowney was elected president of the newly organized women's auxiliary to Company M, Ohio State guard, when the group met in the club rooms at the Armory Tuesday night. Other officers are: Mrs. Frances Grant, vice president; Mrs. Jean Murton, secretary and reporter; Mrs. Vera Young, treasurer.

The constitution and by-laws were submitted by a committee consisting of Mrs. Grace Ebert, Mrs. McEldowney and Mrs. Alma Edgington, and was accepted by the group. The auxiliary now has 23 members.

A potluck supper followed the meeting. Regular meetings will be held the first Tuesday of the month at 8 p. m. at the Armory on West Church street. A social meeting is planned for next month.

Rites Held in Kenton for Victim of Fire

Special to The Star

KENTON, May 3—Funeral was held yesterday in Kenton for Asa E. Fields, 87, retired Hardin county farmer who collapsed and fell into a brush fire he was trying to bring under control at his home, in Kenton. He died a few hours after entering Antonio hospital for treatment of burns.

Mr. Fields was born at Caledonia, and had resided locally for 65 years. He was an active member of the Epworth Methodist church here.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Kemmerly of Kenton; three sons, Charles E., East Liberty, W. Clarence and O. Glenn Fields of Kenton.

Three from County in Nurses' Class

Young women from Marion city and county were among the graduate nurses to receive diplomas at the annual graduating exercises of Mt. Carmel Hospital School of Nursing in Columbus, Tuesday night. They are Miss Geneva Guy, daughter of Mrs. John Guy of 163 Homer street and the late Mr. Guy, Miss Mary Ellen McKinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. McKinney of 268 Silver street, and Miss Jean Dennison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Dennison of near DeCliff.

The exercises, held in the Chapel of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, were followed by solemn benediction. Later there was a reception in honor of the graduating class in the nurses' residence. A banquet at the Seneca Hotel tonight will be in honor of the graduates.

Miss Guy was graduated from Harding High school in 1940. Miss McKinney was graduated from St. Mary Parochial High school in 1935 and Miss Dennison is a graduate of the LaRue High school. Also in the class were Carolyn Ann Kandel of Marysville, and Betty Jane Sheets of Delaware.

Attending the exercises and reception were Mrs. John Guy, Miss Patty Guy, Mrs. W. F. Carder, Mrs. Byron Moffett, Mrs. McKinney and daughter, Florence, and Mr. and Mrs. Dennison.

MOTHERS ARE GUESTS OF BAPTIST CIRCLE

Trinity Church Guild Name Changed at Tea Sunday.

A tea, at which mothers of the members and prospective members of a new circle were guests, was given Sunday afternoon in the parlors of Trinity Baptist church, by the Victoria Christenson guild. The occasion marked the close of 27 years in which the chapter functioned as a part of the World Wide guild, an international organization of the Baptist denomination. Due to a change in the national organization the group will be known as the Victoria Christenson circle of the Women's Missionary society.

The guild colors of Royal blue and white were carried out in the ribbons marking the chairs reserved for the guests and also in the table decorations. Presiding at the table were Mrs. J. B. Holloway and Mrs. W. P. Behan and assisting were Mrs. Kenneth Staats, Mrs. Richard Maxim, Miss Geneva Albert and Miss Lela Polling, who also were in charge of arrangements for the tea. The table was centered with white flowers in a blue bowl and lighted with white tapers. Music was played by Mrs. George Barnhart during the tea hour.

Miss Margaret Huffman, director of religious education at Epworth Methodist church, was a guest speaker. Her subject was "Mothers of Famous Men." Mrs. Richard Maxim presided for the program hour which opened with a welcome to the guests by Mrs. George Wingett, president. Miss JoAnn Creasap gave a toast to the mothers, Miss Lela Polling and Miss Geneva Albert gave toasts to the prospective and new members. Mrs. J. Eugene Auld, a former member of the guild sang "Mother, My Dear," by Combs.

MARION YOUTH 8TH IN DISTRICT TEST

Charles Breithaupt's Rating in School Test Announced.

Charles E. Breithaupt, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Breithaupt of 327 Marion avenue, placed eighth in the Central Ohio district in a recent general scholarship test given by the Ohio state department of education for senior boys and girls, according to word received from Ohio State university. The district includes 17 central Ohio counties.

Breithaupt previously was announced as first place winner among the Marion county students taking the test.

Others from the Marion area placing in the test were David W. Williams of Marysville, eleventh place, and Helen M. Weaver, also of Marysville, tied with Janet Y. Schleppi of Columbus for twelfth place in the girls' division. William C. Hayden of Osborn Bath and Kathryn M. Deen of Xenia placed at the top in the district.

BUYING HELPS STOCK PRICES

Moderate Demand Puts List on Road Toward Recovery.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 3—Moderately active buying of motors, steels and rubbers imparted recovery momentum to today's stock market and key industrials generally moved up fractions to around a point.

Many areas of the list remained sluggish despite the revival elsewhere and Wall Streeters continued to believe speculative interest would be under considerable restraint until the impending vital military developments in Europe materialize.

The market's gains were well maintained near the fourth hour.

Chrysler was up more than a point at one time. Other leaders at better levels were General Motors, Goodrich, U. S. Rubber, Goodyear, Bethlehem, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse and J. C. Penney. Rails were irregular. Schenley rallied after retreating a point. Park & Tilford advanced 2 on small transfers.

Price changes were narrow and mixed in bonds and commodities.

Hesitant action of the rails in the early proceedings was associated with the industry's decision not to contest another six months' suspension of the freight rate increases awarded in 1942 and suspended early last year, indicating their ideas on revenues the carriers told the interstate commerce commission that steadily increasing operating expenses and declining net income might make it necessary for them to ask for a general rate boost before next January.

CIRCLE PLANS PICNIC

Mrs. C. R. Campbell was an associate hostess when Mrs. R. C. Dunlap entertained Circle No. 8 of the General Aid society of the First Presbyterian church last night in her home at 232 Homer street. Plans were discussed for a picnic June 6 with Mrs. J. Paul Lawther as hostess. Mrs. John Gillis conducted the devotions and a program was in charge of Mrs. Paul Bachman, who reviewed the last two chapters of the study book, "Your Child's Religion." Miss Madeline Mary Wynn, director of religious education at the First Presbyterian church, outlined tentative plans for young people's activities. Mrs. Beatrice Law, sister of Mrs. Dunlap, was a guest.

RYE STRENGTHENS GRAIN MARKET

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 3—Firmness in May rye, resulting from short-covering and the lifting of hedges by commercial interests, imparted strength to other grains today. May rye, in which open interest at yesterday's close totaled nearly 9,000,000 bushels, was up about a cent at one time.

Interest in other sections of the market was slight and trading was small. Trade dispatches said a slight improvement had been shown in flour buying at some markets with substantial sales expected in the near future. More than 100,000 bushels of corn were purchased on a "to-arrive" basis.

Several Hundred Hunt Missing Portsmouth Boy

By The Associated Press

PORTSMOUTH, O., May 3—Several hundred searchers scoured the hilly section northeast of Portsmouth today in a hunt for Ronald Arthur Boggs, 3, missing more than 24 hours with his terrier, "Brownie."

Enforcement officers, firemen, Boy Scouts, civil air patrol personnel and citizens estimated to number 500 took up the search last night after the boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Boggs, became alarmed by his absence. They said he was last seen playing in the yard of their suburban home about 10 a. m. Boggs is a railroad machinist.

YE MERRIE PLAYERS AT ANNUAL BANQUET

125 Members and Guests Attend; Program Given.

About 125 members and guests were present for the annual Harding High School Ye Merrie Players banquet held Tuesday night in the home economics room at the school. Ye Merrie Players is composed of members of the cast, production staff and committees who work on the annual senior class play.

The program of the banquet reviewed 25 plays presented by Miss Lucile Foreman during her school career. Miss Foreman introduced each play which was then characterized. The plays were represented by the following members and guests: June Porter, "A College Town;" Jeanne Stein, "It Pays To Advertise;" Miss Marian Conley, "His Majesty Bunker Bean;" Mrs. Everett Grigsby, "Daddy Long Legs;" Phyllis Lewis, "Turn to the Right;" Carl Wilmeth, "Charm School;" J. H. Smith, "Merton of the Movies," Anne Weidemann, "Little Women;" Mrs. Charles Oborn, "Smilin' Through;" Miss Mary Joe Stafford, "The Queen's Husband" of 1929; Miss Margaret Wolfley, "What Every Woman Knows;" Miss Isabelle Freer, "The Swan;" Miss Isabelle Stump, "The Royal Family;" Miss Pansy Rauhauser, "Disraeli;" Bill Williams, "Once in a Lifetime;" Miss Rachel McAfee, "The Novel Princess;" Miss Eloise Coffman, "Victoria Regina;" Elizabeth Zuspan, "First Lady;" Miss Mildred Young, "Stage Door;" Miss Margery Eymon, "The Queen's Husband" of 1940; Miss Edith Brown, "Our Town;" Miss Ruth Wise, "Inside the Lines;" John Bryans, "The Thirteenth Chair;" Eleanor Swain, "Summer at the Seagull," E. E. Holt, city school superintendent, and A. C. May, Harding principal, acted as "critics."

Miss Jayne Young presented a vocal solo accompanied at the piano by Gene Decker who also played for group singing. Miss Zelma Howard, dramatics coach at Central Junior High school, spoke in behalf of the dramatics coaches at the junior high schools.

The dinner was prepared by students of the home economics department under the direction of Miss Pauline Stannard. Table decorations carried out a "Summer at the Seagull" theme with miniature lighthouses, sailboats and garden settings.

Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Holt, Mr. and Mrs. May, Miss Maxine Baker, Miss Stafford and Mrs. Grigsby of Thomas A. Edison Junior High school; Miss Howard of Central; Miss Una Ackley and Miss Young of Vernon Heights Junior High school; Mr. and Mrs. Levi Welch; Mrs. Dwight Foreman, Miss Ruth Wise, Pvt. LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

KATIE CREPT stealthily to my side as the pounding and the raucous voice sounded outside. Then she whispered: "Ven I go, Missis Graham?"

"Wait till they call again," I whispered back. "Then open the door the length of the night chain, and put on your act. If they begin to get ugly, say you'll call me, and open the chain. If they don't tell you to put on the switch, you say when you're standing by the switch: 'I'll turn on the light.' If they do tell you say 'Okay.' But remember, whether you say 'Okay' or 'light' you must say it just as you turn on the switch. Then Jim and I can attend to them."

"Dere de go again'" she said, as the pounding and shouts dorwned out my last words. "Und me, I remember everyting'"

Open Door

"Then go to the door," I whispered, "and open the door the length of the chain. But stand to one side."

"I know," she answered, and as she left my side I knew that though she was thrilled to the depths of her melodrama-loving soul at this chance for an active role, yet she also would face death unhesitatingly if by doing so she could save my life or those of my children.

But even though my eyes were misty at that thought, and I also was wholly awake to the peril in which we all stood, I found my lips twitching at the virago-like accents of my faithful farm worker, when she spoke from the shelter of the door as she opened the lower half of the barred door the length of the night chain.

"Vot you tink you doin', you beeg codfish, poundin' on door like dot? One ting sure, you nor body my Meesis Graham knows. She only has gentlemen and ladees coom here."

Blank Seconds

I think the men outside must have been so surprised at Katie's attack that they waited for a few blank seconds before answering her. But they made up in viciousness for their delay.

"Why you little fool, we'll take you apart and throw you out to the dogs if you give us any more of that lip!" one of them snarled, and there was more than a trace of foreign gutturals in his voice.

"We're the coast guards didn't you hear us?" the voice went on, and I drew a breath of relief mingled with terror. The impression I had received at their first demand was correct. These men were not coast guards. They must be the ones, the capture of whom Hugh said would give him a break.

I steeled my nerves to steadiness, and held before me, ready for action, Hugh's heavy army revolver in my right hand. In my left was my little silencer pistol, for I long ago learned how to shoot with either hand.

Finger Tensed

I knew that Jim's trigger finger was also tensed for action, and that ropes cut in lengths for tying lay on the floor near him, for I had seen him put them there when he took his station with the shot gun.

Katie's voice was as imperturbable as if she was disputing the price of potatoes, and I wondered if she were carrying her role too far when she said:

"Since I hear you. Dead folks outt in burying ground could hear you. But I no scared you or nottyun like you. How I know you coast guards? You got paper say you vot you say?"

That stopped the men for a second, but when he did speak, his voice was venomous.

"We got paper all right, but we don't have to pass it in to you. Now, for the last time—are you going to let us in, or are we going to have to break down the door? But before we have to take the trouble to do that, how would you like a taste of this? Maybe it will make you stir your steps!"

To my horror, a hand was thrust through the opening made by the length of the night chain, and in that hand was grasped a revolver which like the one that was in my own hand.

Involuntary Screech

Katie gave an involuntary screech; then she broke into excited angry speech.

"Don't tell me you're coast guards!" she cried. "They're gents, not low-down dirt like you! But if you're going' try break down door, I go call my Meesis Graham. She kin let you in, or she kin tell you stay outt. Me, I aint' nodings to say."

"You make it snappy, or you'll wish you'd never been born when we get in!"

"I should worry, I should fret," Katie sang back in a distinctly dated jape, but Katie never lets time interfere with her choice of language.

Then she began to call at the top of her voice as she began to climb the stairs:

"Oh, Meesis Graham! You oopstairs." You plees coom down qveeck. Lot of low-down stiffs say dey break down door eef you don't let dem in. You coom down qveeck, plees. Maybe you kin make dem go vay."

Marion Soldier at Anzio Thanks Folks at Home

Being in one of the hottest fighting sections of the world doesn't keep Pvt. Elijah Morris of North Greenwood street, now on the Anzio beachhead in Italy, from a feeling of gratitude to the folks back home for backing up the war effort, he demonstrated in a letter sent to The Star.

He said, "I would like to express my appreciation to the people of Marion and Marion county for the fine work they are doing for us boys overseas . . ."

He has taken part in two other major campaigns in North Africa and Sicily. He is with an Engineers division.

ENGLISH CHILDREN SEND THANKS FOR GIFTS

Letters to Mayor Voice Appreciation for Yule Gifts.

Letters expressing thanks to Marion residents who sent Christmas remembrances to a number of English children evacuated to rural villages because of the war, have been received by Mayor Harry L. Dowler. The letters, mostly from children ranging in age from seven to 12 years, express delight at the gifts.

Sweets, hair bows, a hair brush, painting books and the many other articles brought joy to the children and many of the letters carried expressions of gratitude to their American friends. Many mentioned their parents as being in service but all were happy and grateful to those caring for them while they are away from home.

Accompanying the letters was one from Stanley Moffett, director of education at Middlesbrough. "Some of your presents," the director wrote, "are among the children's most treasured possessions and they will not easily forget the pleasure which you have given them, nor, I think, grow up unmindful of the personal link which in this way is being forged between the British and American peoples."

YOUR HEALTH

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Contact Dermatitis

THE EYELIDS are composed of very delicate and sensitive skin. This part of the body reacts to irritations and other forms of insult much more readily than the skin of most of the rest of the body. It is probably the most responsive barometer to contact dermatitis.

But, you ask, how do the eyelids come in contact with anything that would cause contact dermatitis? Very simply, because of the human habit of touching and rubbing the eyes with the fingers. And the fingers get into everything.

Have you any idea how often you jab your fingers into your eyelids? Well, the other evening after my attention had been called to the frequency of contact dermatitis of the eyelids, I was asked to introduce a speaker at one of our town assemblies. When he got started speaking I sat on the platform facing the audience.

It was a darn dull speech and I did not have to listen to him so, watching the audience, I got out a paper and pencil and made a mark for every time I saw a member of the audience rub his or her eyes. I did this until my arm got tired and when I got home and counted the marks on my paper I found I had 732. There were about 250 persons in the audience so that made an average of nearly three touches per person during one half hour of the day.

This average does not take into account the morning and evening rub eye period—when you first get up in the morning and very properly give the old eyelids the once or twice over, and then again at night, the same thing just after turning off the light. I am not saying this is a bad thing, although touching the eyelids can get to be excessive and a bad habit. I am simply showing how the eyelids get into contact with anything the fingers do and the fingers get into contact with everything.

My friend, Dr. A. A. Bennie, one of the four best dermatologists in the country tells me that the commonest stubborn form of contact dermatitis occurs in women and comes from nail polish.

The next commonest is no respecter of sexes and comes from sensitiveness to dog hairs. You don't put the dog up to your face necessarily, but you rub it or pat it and get hair or hair secretion on the fingers. This type can be proved by pulling a few hairs off the household pet and putting them on the eyelids when—phooey—in an hour or so the eyelids are ablaze.

Then there is the curling iron for eyelashes. This is usually made of rubber and nickel and Dr. Bennie has shown me in several cases how you can distinguish on the eyelids the rubber dermatitis from the nickel dermatitis.

Of course, the way to treat these conditions is — don't. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

The eyelids alone swell up at the onset of certain infectious diseases. One is trichinosis, which comes from eating uncured pork. It may seem very mysterious. A young physician friend of mine woke up one morning with his eyes swollen shut. And he felt like the dickens generally in spite of having spent a blameless night. A blood count showed it could be traced to some hamburgers he ate at a barbecue. Another infectious disease is tularemia — rabbit hunter's fever. Here rubbing the eyes while skinning a rabbit is certainly the infectious factor.

The common stye is another condition that may be traced to rubbing the eyelids. Perhaps the eyes need glasses, and that is why they are rubbed. Treat a stye with hot, wet towels until it comes to a head. Then get the pus out and anoint the edge of the eyelid with two per cent yellow oxide of mercury.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. H.: Is it true that the kidneys contain 15 miles of tubes, if stretched out? A radio advertising talk makes that statement to recommend a certain type of medicine.

Answer: The tubules of the kidneys would stretch a long ways if laid end to end. I have heard various estimates. What difference does it make for any particular kind of medicine?

MARION MAN ON STATE EDUCATIONAL COMMITTEE

George W. Wilson on Group to Make Post-War Plans.

George W. Wilson, Harding High school instructor, has been appointed a member of the state post-war educational planning committee. The first meeting of the committee is to be held in Columbus May 8.

One of the first duties of this committee, according to Kenneth C. Ray, state superintendent of public instruction, will be considering and implementing the recommendations of the national conference which was held in Washington, D. C., on March 3 and 4.

Some of the most important problems as announced by superintendent Ray include the following:

Surveys of need for or construction of educational plant facilities as part of a post-war public works program.

Distribution of educational equipment released by federal government agencies.

Education of ex-service personnel.

How can the states adjust their educational organizations so as to enable them to operate these federally-financed programs and thus return to the states the responsibility for administering education."

Mr. Wilson is president of the Marion Federation of Teachers and of the Ohio Federation of Teachers and is now serving his second year as general secretary of the Marion Central Labor Union.

Ohio-Led Fighter Unit Commended in England

By The Associated Press

AN EIGHTH AIRFORCE FIGHTER BASE IN ENGLAND, May 3—A Mustang group commanded by Col. Don Blakeslee, of Fairport Harbor, O., which has become the first in the European theater of operations to top 500 kills, was congratulated yesterday by Maj. Gen. William E. Kepner, commander of the Eighth airforce fighter command, for setting a record "on the history of aerial warfare."

The group destroyed 207 German planes in April. It includes Capt. Don S. Gentile of Piqua, O., the theater's leading ace; his wingman, Lt. Johnny Godfrey of Woonsocket, R. I., and Maj. James Goodson of Toronto, Ontario.

The group's record, dating back to September, 1942, when its nucleus of Eagle squadron men transferred from the RAF as a unit, now stands at 507½. The half was credited for a kill shared with an RAF pilot.

Of the total, 352½ were destroyed in the air and 155 on the ground. In April the group destroyed 95 planes in the air and 112 on the ground.
